3. MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The material accounting policies as disclosed in the Company's audited Annual Consolidated Financial Statements for the year ended December 31, 2025, have been consistently applied to all periods in the preparation of these unaudited Interim Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

Changes in accounting standards

In April 2024, the IASB issued IFRS 18 Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements ("IFRS 18"), which replaces IAS 1 Presentation of Financial Statements. IFRS 18 introduces a specified structure for the income statement by requiring income and expenses to be presented within three defined categories of operating, investing and financing, and by specifying certain defined totals and subtotals. Where company-specific measures related to the income statement are provided, IFRS 18 requires companies to disclose explanations around these measures, which are referred to as management-defined performance measures. IFRS 18 also provides additional guidance on principles of aggregation and disaggregation which apply to the primary financial statements and the notes. IFRS 18 will not affect the recognition and measurement of items in the financial statements, nor will it affect which items are classified in other comprehensive income and how these items are classified. The standard is effective for reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2027, with retrospective application required. The Company is currently in the process of assessing the impact of this new standard.

4. BUSINESS ACQUISITIONS

Temecula Acquisition

On August 28, 2025, the Company completed the acquisition of certain assets of Temecula Electrical Supply Inc. 2. Maximum credit available is $580,000. Amount advanced under the facility at any time is limited to a defined percentage of inventories and trade receivables, less certain reserves. The facility is secured by a first charge over the Company's assets and an assignment of trade receivables and requires that certain covenants be met by the Company. This facility matures on April 30, 2028.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, certain drawings under the revolving loan facility were designated as a hedge against the Company's investment in its US operations and an unrealized foreign exchange loss of $3,158 was recognized in Foreign currency translation in Other comprehensive income.

Issuance of senior unsecured notes

On December 2, 2025, the Company completed an additional private placement offering under the terms of the existing 2029 Unsecured Notes. These additional notes were issued at a price of $1,016 per $1,000 principal, resulting in gross proceeds of $172,763. The offering was underwritten by Stifel, CIBC Capital Markets and TD Securities as joint active bookrunners, and National Bank Capital Markets, Raymond James, RBC Capital Markets, Wells Fargo Securities, and Canaccord Genuity, with Desjardins Capital Markets acting as joint bookrunners.

Net cash proceeds raised on December 2, 2025, from the 2029 Unsecured Notes, together with additional funds drawn under the Company's revolving loan facility, were used on December 17, 2025, to repurchase for cancellation the $272,163 balance of the Company's unsecured notes, having a maturity date of May 15, 2026.

Amendment of revolving loan facility

On January 31, 2025, the Company amended its existing revolving loan facility, increasing the maximum available credit from $500,000 to $580,000. All other material terms remained substantially unchanged.

The Company was not in breach of any of its covenants during the period ended September 30, 2026, and had the right to defer settlement for more than twelve months from the period end date. Accordingly, the revolving loan facility was classified as non-current as at September 30, 2026.

As part of the Company's cash management strategy, and notwithstanding contractual maturity, the Company continues to have the right and may, at its discretion, repay portions of its revolving loan facility earlier than the maturity date.

17. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Non-derivative financial instruments

The carrying amounts of non-derivative financial instruments approximate fair value, with the exception of the following:

	September 30, 2026		December 31, 2025
	Carrying amount $	Fair value $	Carrying amount $	Fair value $
2029 Unsecured Notes[1]	531,396	547,733	530,464	543,694
Revolving loan facility	302,858	303,757	283,217	284,431

1. Non-publicly listed, with a maturity date of September 17, 2029, and interest rate at 7.5%.

The following methods and assumptions were used to determine the estimated fair value of each class of financial instrument:

- The fair values of cash and cash equivalents, trade and other receivables, bank indebtedness, trade and other payables and dividends payable were comparable to their carrying amounts, given the short maturity periods.
- The fair value of the Company's 2029 Unsecured Notes was based on a price quoted by an independent investment brokerage.
- The fair value of the Company's revolving loan facility approximates its carrying value as it bears interest at a variable rate based on current market rates. The fair value has been estimated as the carrying value excluding unamortized financing costs.
- The fair values of the Company's lease liabilities and other loans approximate their carrying values as they bear interest that approximates current market rates.

IFRS 13, Fair Value Measurement requires classification of financial instruments within a hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to fair value measurement.

The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are:

Level 1 – Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2 – Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset and liability, either directly or indirectly; and

Level 3 – Inputs that are not based on observable market data.

All of the Company's financial instruments are categorized as Level 2 fair values, with the exception of contingent consideration, which was categorized as Level 3.

Contingent consideration was assumed as part of a historic business combination, and was subsequently measured at fair value. The valuation technique used was based on discounted cash flows, which considers the present value of expected future payments, discounted using a risk-adjusted discount rate. The change in the fair value of the contingent consideration liability during the nine months ended September 30, 2026, was nominal.

The expenses resulting from financial assets and liabilities recorded in net earnings are as disclosed in Note 15.

The following table shows, as at September 30, 2026, the Company's contractual obligations with respect to its non-derivative financial instruments, including estimated interest, within the periods indicated:

	Face value $	Total contractual obligation[1] $	Remainder of 2026 $	2027-2028 $	2029-2030 $	Thereafter $
Unsecured notes[2]	535,000	655,375	–	80,250	575,125	–

Total contractual obligations		1,520,165	209,272	608,964	642,944	58,985

1. Includes future interest obligations.
2. Non-publicly listed notes with maturity date of September 17, 2029, and interest rate at 7.5%.
3. Interest has been calculated based on the average borrowing under the facility for the nine months ended September 30, 2026, utilizing the interest rate payable under the terms of the facility at September 30, 2026. This facility matures on April 30, 2028.

Derivative financial instruments

From time to time, the Company uses derivative financial instruments for economic hedging purposes in managing lumber price risk and foreign exchange risk through the use of futures contracts and options. Derivative instruments are measured at fair value through profit and loss with changes in fair value recorded in net earnings.

The Company held no outstanding foreign exchange contracts as at September 30, 2026, and December 31, 2025. Additionally, the Company held a nominal amount of lumber futures contracts.

When held by the Company, these derivative financial instruments are traded through well-established financial services firms with a long history of providing trading, exchange and clearing services for commodities and currencies. As trading activities are closely monitored and restricted by senior management, including limits for a maximum number of outstanding contracts at any point in time, the risk of a material credit loss on these financial instruments is considered low.

Hedge of investment in foreign operations

Certain drawings under the revolving loan facility were designated as a hedge against the Company's investment in its US operations. During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, the Company recorded an unrealized foreign exchange loss of $3,158 (2025 – gain of $8,151), arising on revaluation of hedged foreign currency debt in Foreign currency translation in Other comprehensive income during the period.

Financial risk management

The Company's activities result in exposure to a variety of financial risks from its financial assets and financial liabilities, including risks related to credit, interest rates, currency, liquidity and wood product prices.

Financial assets include trade and other receivables, which are measured at amortized cost. Financial liabilities include bank indebtedness, trade and other payables, dividends payable, unsecured notes, revolving loan facility and lease liabilities. Except for contingent consideration and derivative financial instruments, the Company's financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost.

The Board of Directors has overall responsibility for establishment and oversight of the Company's risk management, which seeks to minimize any potential adverse effects on the Company's financial performance.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Company if a customer fails to meet its contractual obligations and arises primarily from the Company's trade and other receivables. The Company grants credit to its customers in the normal course of operations. To limit its exposure to credit risk, the Company performs ongoing evaluations of the credit quality of its customers and follows diligent credit granting and collection procedures. Purchase limits are established for each customer and are reviewed regularly.

The Company regularly reviews the collectability of its trade accounts receivable and establishes an allowance for doubtful accounts based on its best estimate of any potentially uncollectible accounts.

As at September 30, 2026, trade accounts receivable, excluding other receivables, were as follows:

	$
Current	294,991
Past due over 60 days	2,825
Trade receivables	297,816
Less: Allowance for doubtful accounts	(655)
	297,161

As at September 30, 2026, the maximum exposure to credit risk, including both trade and other receivables, was $315,405 (December 31, 2025 – $203,210), which represents the carrying value amount of financial instruments classified as trade and other receivables.

Interest rate risk

The majority of the Company's borrowings are currently issued at fixed rates, specifically, the 2029 Unsecured Notes (Note 11). Therefore, the Company is exposed to fair value interest rate risk on these borrowings, as interest rate decreases make the Company susceptible to opportunity costs.

Additionally, the Company is exposed to interest rate risk through its variable rate revolving loan facility (Note 11). Based on the Company's average variable rate borrowings during the nine months ended September 30, 2026, the sensitivity of a 1% increase in interest rates would result in an approximate decrease of $679 in quarterly net earnings.

The Company did not hold any interest rate swaps during the periods ended September 30, 2026 and 2025. However, the negative risk of rising interest rates was mitigated by financing a significant portion of the Company's borrowings through the unsecured notes at fixed rates.

Currency risk

Currency risk is the risk that changes in market prices of foreign exchange rates will affect the Company's earnings or the value of its holdings of financial instruments. The Company is exposed to currency risk on the US dollar components of its revolving loan facility, as well as revenues and purchase transactions that are denominated in US dollars.

As at September 30, 2026, the Company had US dollar drawings under its revolving loan facility of US$70,770 (December 31, 2025 – US$54,575), which have been designated as a hedge against the Company's net investment in its foreign operations.

As at September 30, 2026, an increase of $0.01 in the Canadian dollar versus the US dollar would have an insignificant impact on quarterly net earnings, and an increase in Other comprehensive earnings of approximately $8,800.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they fall due or at a reasonable cost. The Company manages liquidity risk by having appropriate credit facilities available at all times. In addition, the Company continuously monitors and reviews both actual and forecasted cash flows. The Company is exposed to refinancing risks as there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to secure credit on the same terms or amount when the facility expires.

Other price risk

Other price risk is defined as the potential adverse impact on net earnings and economic value due to price movement and volatilities. The Company is exposed to other price risk with respect to certain construction materials. The Company closely monitors construction materials prices.

Based on products offered, production processes involved, and how financial information is produced internally for the purposes of making operating decisions, the Company operates as one reportable segment, with the remaining smaller operations categorized as Other.

During the comparative year ended December 31, 2025, the Company revised its internal reporting structure for management purposes following the sale of the Company's timberlands disclosed in Note 13 to the 2025 audited Annual Consolidated Financial Statements.

21. CAPITAL DISCLOSURES

The Company's objectives when managing capital are to safeguard its ability to continue as a going concern, so that it can continue to provide dividends to shareholders and benefits for other stakeholders. The Company includes debt and equity, comprising shareholders' capital, contributed surplus, retained earnings (including cumulative dividends on shares), and foreign currency translation on foreign operations, in the definition of capital.

The Company seeks to maintain a balance between the higher returns that might be possible with the leverage afforded by higher borrowing levels and the security afforded by a sound capital structure. It does this by maintaining appropriate debt levels in relation to its working capital and other assets in order to provide the maximum dividends to shareholders commensurate with the level of risk. Also, the Company utilizes its debt capabilities to buy back shares, where appropriate, in order to maximize cash distribution rates for remaining shareholders.

The Company manages the capital structure and adjusts it in light of changes in economic conditions. In order to maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Company may adjust the amount of dividends paid to shareholders, repurchase shares in the market, issue new shares, or sell assets to reduce debt.

The Company's policy over the long-term, is to dividend all available cash from operations to shareholders after reducing debt and providing for cash required for maintenance of capital expenditures and other reserves considered advisable by the Company's directors. The Company has eliminated the impact of seasonal fluctuations by equalizing quarterly dividends.

There are no externally imposed capital requirements and the Company's loan agreements do not contain any capital maintenance covenants.

There were no changes to the Company's approach to capital management during the current period.

22. SEASONALITY

The Company's revenues are subject to seasonal variances that fluctuate in accordance with the normal home building season, depending on the geographical location, which creates a timing difference between quarterly free cash flow earned and the Company's policy of equalizing quarterly dividends paid.

23. CONTINGENCIES

Product liability and other claims

During the normal course of business, certain product liability and other claims have been brought against the Company and, where applicable, its suppliers. While there is inherent difficulty in predicting the outcome of such matters, management has vigorously contested the validity of these claims, where applicable, and, based on current knowledge, believes that they are without merit and does not expect that the outcome of any of these matters, in consideration of insurance coverage maintained, or the nature of the claims, individually or in the aggregate, would have a material adverse effect on the consolidated financial position, results of operations or future earnings of the Company.
